The Commissioner of Customs is convinced, from the character of the reports which he is daily receiving from the Canadian frontier, that his action in employing female detectives there was judicious, and will be of great benefit in the exposure and arrest of the female smugglers who have recently been so extensively engaged in the contraband trade between Canada and the United States. Not one female smuggler now crosses the line where twenty crossed before, and merchants along the border, suspected of having been engaged in the contraband trade, are closing their stores and selling out.

The Times' Washington special contains the following:

A motion has been made in the Supreme Court, by A. H., Garland, Esq., of Arkansas, to be permitted to practice in court without taking the oath as prescribed by acts of Congress of July 2d, 1862, and January 24th, 1885. The motion will be argued probably on Wednesday, directly after the adjournment of the Supreme Court of the United States. Yesterday a meeting of the members of the bar of that court was convened for the purpose of paying proper respect to the memory of the late Judge Catron, who died since the adjournment of the court last spring. Judge Black, formerly Attorney General, preceded, and eloquent speeches were made by Hou. Caleb Cushing, Hon. Montgomery Blair and others. A committee was appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting. The resolutions were proposed and adopted, and the committee desired to present a copy thereof to the court to-day, to be placed in the journal.

Mr. Sherman introduced a bill forthe survey and sale of the mineral lands of the United States.
Mr. Cowan presented the credentials of Messrs, Alcorn and Sharkey, Senators-elect from Mississippi, which were ordered to lie upon the table for further action.

Parliment has been further prologued to the 28th of December.

A Dublin telegram of the evening of the 20th, to the Morning Post, say:

Pigeon House Fort, commanding Dublin bay, has been garrisoned since the 18th by a large military detachment.

All the guards have been doubled and the guns double shotted, and the men are held under arms all night.

During all day on the 20th four general officers were in the fort, and the gates and bridges were closed.

The number of Fenians admitted to bail is regarded as an indication that only the chief will be prosecuted.

The Liverpool Post publishes a circumstantial account of the duel recently fought near that city, in which an American Fenian General named Wm. Brown one of the principals, received a slight wound in the hip. The story is youched for as authentic and is said to have been hushed up until the General departed for New York, which he did on the 18th. His antagonist was an anti-Fenian.

Mr. Sherman introduced a bill for the survey and sale of the mineral lands of the United States, which was ordered to be printed. The bill leaves the price blank, but provides that actual residents and occupants shall be allowed to purchase the lands at the minimum rate.

Mr. Steward offered a bill to define the jurisdictiction of the Circuit and District Courts in the States of California, Nevada and Oregon.

Mr. Cowan presented the credentials of Wm. L. Sharkey and Jas. L. Alcorn, Senators elect from the State of Mississippi. Gen. Grant's Report. New York, Dec. 5.—In submitting his report Lieut, General Grant says he was impressed from an early period of the rebellion with the idea that action and the submitted apparations of all the the rebellion with the idea that action and continued operations of all the troops that could be brought into the field, regardless of season and weather were necessary to success. The irrnies, east and west, acted without concertlike a baulky term no two overpulling together, enabling the enemy to use to great advantage his interior lines of communication and it was a question whether our numerical strength and resources were not more than balanced by his advantages and superior position. Convinced that no peace could be obtained until the military power of the rebellion was entirely broken, I determined, first, to use the greatest number of troops pradently against the armed forces of the enemy, preventing him from using the same force, at different seasons, against first one and then another of our armies.

New York, Dec. 5.—The steamer Liberty, from Havana on the 29th of November, has arrived. News from Cape Haytleneon firms the accounts of the bombardment by the British. The rebels there have scattered and most of the robel chiefs have been shot. Six or seven persons who took refuge with the British Consul during the bombardment were seized by the rebels and shot. The rebel General Andrew, with 500 men, surrendered to the government. GLOVES AND GAUNTLETS
